Subject: Computer Software Development process patent application

Hi Ingrid-

I understand that you will be leaving GE at the end of this month. Just to keep you informed of where we are, we filed a provisional (i.e., non-formal) patent application on the invention in mid-November in order to obtain a priority date for any later-filed formal applications. Since the application is provisional, no signatures were required from the inventors. As far as its content, the provisional application includes some background information as well as printouts of the various pages of the web-site and is rather substantial in size. When we do formalize the application (hopefully by February, '02), we will need to have you review the application and sign off on the associated formal documents. Toward this end, if you could please provide us with your future contact information (including an email address if possible), so that we can keep in touch with you as things progress. Let me know if you have any questions about the patenting process or anything else.

Thanks for your help!

-Rob Clark

Hello-

As promised, attached is a draft of the patent application which I plan to file tomorrow on your behalf. Please take a look at the application and let me know if you have any suggestions or comments regarding both its accuracy and its completeness. Please note that the application does not include claims yet (I'll finish these tomorrow) and the numerated figures are in hard copy only, so I provided the figures without the numbers in them for your review only. Again, the due date for filing is tomorrow, so any help you can provide would be great. Thanks and I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Regards,

Rob Clark

Hello PMM Inventors:

If you all recall, some time ago, I put together and filed a provisional patent application relating to the project management methodology and the related web site that you all helped develop. The time has now come to convert this provisional application to a formal utility application. In the coming days, I will be sending you all a draft of the final application for your review and comments, so that I can file the application with the United States Patent Office by the deadline of November 13, 2002. This email is just to give each of you a little advance warning. Let me know if you have any questions or concerns. I look forward to contacting you again soon.

Regards,

Rob Clark

Hello Sara:

Sorry to bother you. I have received the formal documents from each inventor for the above application except for Ingrid Russell. I have tried to reach her by e-mail and Fed Ex, and also tried reaching her husband, Christopher Russell, who is or was a GE employee as well.

Can you check your employee locator to see if either still work for GE, and if so, find a current e-mail address and/or home address that I can forward these documents to.

Let me know what you find out. Thanks and have a great weekend!

Hi Joan -

Unfortunately, Ingrid Russell is not listed on our global directory anymore. By copy of this e-mail, I am asking another named inventor, Mike Signor if he can help us locate Ingrid Russell. Hopefully we will have some luck contacting Ingrid.

Thanks.

Never heard of this person. I looked in the global address list. As I can't find the person, maybe she left the company?

Hi Jackie - we are trying to locate an inventor named Ingrid Russell who is listed as an inventor on the above mentioned patent. We were wondering if you know where Ingrid may be located? Mike Signor and Chris McKenna did not know her whereabouts. Any insight you can give us is much appreciated! Many thanks.
